2007 Spirit of Jeanne Jugan Award

*2007 Award Recipient
Monsignor James J. Howard*

Many of Philadelphia's finest police officers and firefighters credit Monsignor James Howard for their spiritual renewal.

Many couples married in the Cathedral parish credit him for their sacramental preparation.

And many residents of Holy Family Home credit him for contributing to their peaceful final days.

In turn, Monsignor Howard credits his late mother, Veronica, for instilling in her only child the spirit of humble service that makes him the overwhelming choice to receive the first Spirit of Jeanne Jugan Award.

"You get your first religious experience from your parents," says Monsignor Jim. "My father was a humble man. My mother was always my best friend. She led me by suggestion. She listened."
